Adeline Caputo

Brecksville-Broadview Heights

Adeline Caputo, a junior at Brecksville-Broadview Heights High School, is currently enrolled in CVCC's Culinary Arts & Food Services program, taught by Kim Morton. Adeline has always had a passion for baking and cooking, likely influenced by her family's love for these activities.

After graduating from high school, Adeline is uncertain whether she will pursue a career in Culinary Arts or a related field, though she can envision herself working in a kitchen. She values keeping her options open and appreciates being in a program that teaches valuable life skills, regardless of her future career choice.

This year, Adeline's favorite class project was the fourth quarter cake project. She enjoys baking more than cooking, and this project allowed her to be creative and try something new. She valued the feedback on her cake and felt proud of the final product. Additionally, Adeline enjoyed preparing and catering for the Outstanding Senior Reception held at the Valley Inn at CVCC in late April. She found the event rewarding and appreciated connecting with CVCC students and staff.

"I absolutely love Ms. Morton. She is approachable, understanding, and strict in the best possible way. Class truly feels like working at a restaurant," says Adeline.

Outside of her academic pursuits, Adeline dances at Creative Movement Center in Broadview Heights and enjoys baking in her free time. Her advice to incoming CVCC students is to seize all opportunities and approach everything with a positive mindset. Keep up the great work, Adeline!
