Tyler Lewicki

Brecksville-Broadview Heights

Tyler Lewicki, a senior at Brecksville-Broadview Heights High School, is enrolled in CVCC's Construction Trades program, taught by Paul Yuravak. Inspired by his older brother's regret for not attending CVCC, Tyler saw the Construction Trades program as the ideal way to gain valuable life skills. As a triplet, he also felt that CVCC would provide a unique opportunity to form new connections.

After graduation, Tyler plans to join the Marine Corps, with aspirations to pursue a career in law enforcement afterward. Although he's still exploring specific paths, he's considering roles in the Secret Service, CIA, or other federal positions, driven by his passion for serving the community and ensuring public safety.

At CVCC, Tyler is actively involved in SkillsUSA, where he has embraced several leadership roles, including class officer in charge of community service and a North Central Regional Officer. His favorite aspect of the Construction Trades program is the close-knit bond he shares with his classmates. "At the end of the day, we're family. We're all here to make each other better," Tyler says. His advice to fellow students is to seize every opportunity at CVCC, as there are countless ways to grow and learn.

Beyond his studies, Tyler is involved in Music in Motion and Youth and Government at Brecksville-Broadview Heights High School, with plans to join the mock trial team. He's also deeply connected with his church and continually seeks ways to give back to his community. Keep up the amazing work, Tyler!
