Jessica Zenir

Brecksville-Broadview Heights

Jessica Zenir, a senior at Brecksville-Broadview Heights High School, is currently enrolled in the Sports Medicine Exercise Science (SMES) program at CVCC, where she is guided by instructor Shawn Fahey. Growing up surrounded by sports, Jessica developed a strong interest in pursuing a career in the field. When she toured CVCC, joining the SMES program felt like the perfect fit. Jessica aspires to work directly with athletes, with a particular focus on strength conditioning and nutrition, ideally with a professional basketball or volleyball team.

Jessica is incredibly grateful for the opportunities CVCC has offered, especially the chance to connect with students from different school districts. She sees her time at CVCC not as a task, but as an enjoyable and fulfilling experience. Every day, she looks forward to the new skills she is gaining, which will help her in her future career. Jessica has especially enjoyed Mr. Spano's anatomy class and is looking forward to participating in HOSA-Future Health Professionals this year. She hopes to qualify in nutrition, which involves taking a written test and a tiebreaker essay question.

For those thinking about CVCC, Jessica's advice is straightforward: "It will take hard work, but if you're passionate about a program here, you'll enjoy it and find success. Everyone is here to support you and help you thrive."

Outside of her academics, Jessica plays on her high school's volleyball and basketball teams. In her downtime, she enjoys working out and spending time with friends. Keep up the great work, Jessica!
