Jordin Lewis Garfield Heights

Jordin Lewis, a junior at Garfield Heights High School, is enrolled in the Cosmetology program at CVCC, led by instructor Melissa Fox. With a lifelong passion for hairstyling, Jordin often spends her free time outside of school doing hair. So when the opportunity to join the Cosmetology program came along, she jumped at the chance.

"I wanted to get a head start on my career and thought it would be fun and creative," Jordin shared. "I've loved doing hair for as long as I can remember."

Ms. Fox speaks highly of Jordin's commitment and teamwork. "Jordin is very focused and always willing to help her classmates. She's a true team player and an absolute pleasure to have in class."

Since joining the program, Jordin says her skills and confidence have grown tremendously. "It's been amazing to learn hands-on by practicing on manikin heads in class. I'm really excited to start working on classmates soon," she said. "Mrs. Fox pushes me to do my best. Even on tough days when I feel like giving up, she encourages me and reminds me that I'm capable."

Looking ahead, Jordin plans to attend college and continue pursuing a career in cosmetology, with the goal of owning her own loft-style salon one day. Outside of school, Jordin works at Panera and enjoys spending time outdoors with her friends. She also challenges herself academically by taking several honors and AP courses at Garfield Heights. Her advice to future CVCC students: "Go for it! It's so helpful and I've already learned so much. I can't wait to see how much more I'll grow and learn while I'm here."

Keep up the great work, Jordin! We're so proud of your dedication and passion.
