CUYAHOGA VALLEY CAREER CENTER

Jaida Masson

North Royalton

Jaida Masson, a junior at North Royalton High School, is currently enrolled in the Digital Design program at Cuyahoga Valley Career Center, led by instructor Melissa Munro. Jaida has a passion for interior design, an interest sparked partly by helping her mom decorate their home and further inspired by a close friend who is pursuing a career in the field. She saw CVCC as the perfect place to begin building a strong foundation in design and to confirm her interest before heading to college.

Looking ahead, Jaida plans to pursue a degree in interior design and business, with dreams of one day opening a business alongside her mom. At CVCC, she's taken on leadership roles as Class President of her program and is actively involved in SkillsUSA. Recently named an Executive Officer, she's also running for a Regional Officer position. Jaida was encouraged to join by the positive experiences of past participants and is excited to continue expanding her involvement.

Through her time in the program, Jaida has noticed significant personal growth, particularly in her confidence and leadership abilities. She's eager to continue developing her skills and seizing new opportunities. Naturally artistic, Jaida enjoys being able to channel her creativity into her academic work on a daily basis. Outside the classroom, Jaida is a dedicated dancer at Creative Movement Center and balances her schedule with a job at an ice cream shop. Her advice for students considering CVCC: "It's such a welcoming environment here—you won't regret coming and getting ahead or building a strong foundation for college and beyond." Way to go, Jaida! Keep up the amazing work!
